DECLARATION OF CHRISTOPHER BRILL

Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746, I, Christopher Brill, hereby declare as follows:

1. Since 2013, I have been employed as a Senior Data Analyst with TargetSmart Communications LLC, where my duties and responsibilities include, but are not limited to, collecting and analyzing political, electoral, consumer, demographic and other datasets; product development; and strategic consulting.

2. Since 2006, I have devoted my career to the study of political processes in the United States generally, with a particular focus on research and analyses of political and electoral data, from precinct level to nationwide in scope.

3. My experience includes, but is not limited to, research and analyses of statewide voter files to identify socio-economic, geographic and other characteristics of voter file data.

4. I also have experience comparing and matching political and electoral data, including voter file data, against large and complex datasets; analyzing the results of such comparisons and matching; and identifying strengths and weaknesses in the methods, protocols and algorithms used in performing these kinds of analyses.

5. My experience also includes identifying reasons for false positive and false negative results when comparing or matching such data across large datasets and developing best practices for optimizing accurate matches and comparisons of data.

6. I obtained a Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science from the University of New Mexico 2006.  My current resume is attached and incorporated herein by reference as Exhibit A.

7. I have been retained by Plaintiffs' counsel in this matter to conduct analyses of the November 6, 2018 general election vote results in Georgia, in particular to analyze the undervote in statewide contests, including the Lieutenant Governor's election; to offer my opinions concerning said data and analyses based upon by background, training and experience; and to prepare a preliminary report summarizing my analyses of this data and opinions.

8. I am not billing Plaintiffs' counsel for my services in this matter.

9. My report and accompanying affidavit and exhibits, which include my curriculum vitae, were filed with the court in Coalition for Good Governance v. Raffensperger, No. 2018CV31348 (Fulton Cty. Sup. Ct.), and are attached hereto as Exhibit A.

10. The sources used for the analysis are from officially published election result tabulations made available by the Georgia Secretary of State, as well as publicly available individual voter file data.

11. My opinions are based upon currently available information.  I reserve the right to amend, supplement and update my opinions and report if additional information is made known to me during the pendency of this litigation.

12. It is typical in Georgia and other states that in major elections, almost everyone who casts a ballot votes for the race at the "top of the ticket," which is followed by a slight decline in the number of votes cast in the statewide down-ballot races that follow.

13. In gubernatorial elections dating back to 2002, the undervote rate for down-ballot statewide offices in Georgia has ranged from one to two percent, and has never exceeded 3.1 percent.

14. In the 2018 general election, however, the Lieutenant Governor contest between Geoff Duncan and Sarah Riggs Amico, had an undervote rate of 4.0 percent.  Thousands fewer votes were cast in the Lieutenant Governor's race than would have been expected based on historic voter participation rates.

15. I have analyzed election results in the more than 2,600 voting precincts in Georgia using a series of data manipulation tools, including an internal license of 'Alteryx' a well-known analytics platform commonly used by experts in the field, as well as additional analysis via open sourced Python data libraries. The methodology and code for my analysis is attached hereto as Exhibit B.

16. The undervote rate in the November 2018 Lieutenant Governor's race among votes cast in person on DRE machines on Election Day was approximately 4.5 percent.

17. The undervote rate in the Lieutenant Governor's race among votes cast in person on DRE machines during early voting was approximately 3.9 percent.

18. The undervote rate in the November 2018 Lieutenant Governor's race among absentee votes cast by paper ballot was approximately 1 percent.
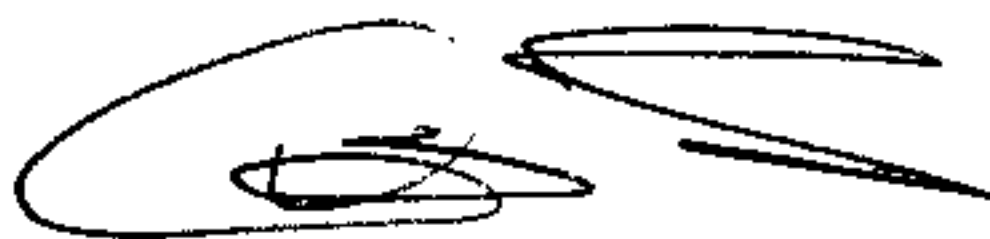

19. A chart comparing the undervote in the Lieutenant Governor's race by (1) in person Election Day vote; (2) in person advance vote; and (3) absentee vote is below:

From:      Christopher Brill, Senior Data Analyst
Date:      January 5th 2019
Subject:   Exhibit A: Analysis of the 2018 Georgia Lt. Governor undervote

Research Summary

The purpose of this analysis is to examine for possible irregularities in the number of votes cast for the 2018 Lieutenant Governor's election in Georgia. TargetSmart was approached by Marilyn Marks, Executive Director, for the Coalition for Good Governance to examine what appeared to be a significantly lower number of votes being cast for the Lt. Governor's election than all other statewide constitutional offices in the November 6, 2018 election

TargetSmart is considered an industry leader in voter data and political campaign services.  In addition to maintaining a nationwide voter file, TargetSmart also maintains a nationwide repository of election results allowing us to examine electoral trends across states and time.  For this project, the lead researcher also has over a dozen years' experience collecting and analyzing publicly available election results.

The primary question we want to probe: "was the undervote that occurred during the Lt. Governor election consistent with historic patterns and do the factors that we know contribute to higher rates of under voting apply to this election?"

After an initial examination of the state, county and precinct level results from the 2018 election in Georgia it is our initial conclusion that the vote totals published cast substantial doubt on the final vote total of the Lt. Governor election.  The undervote that occurred for the Lt Governor election is simply not consistent with patterns of undervote seen previously in Georgia, or around the country.
Defining Under voting

Before presenting our case, it may help to define terms. Quite simply, an undervote occurs when a voter decides, or by accident, does not vote for a specific office or issue on the ballot. While voters might have countless motivations while in the voting booth on what they do and do not vote for, when it comes to under voting there are generally 3 variables that are most associated with high undervote rates:

1) Low visibility:  If an election on a ballot is not well known to the public, is further down the ballot, or both then a higher undervote is likely to occur.  For instance, an office such as 'Community College District Board' might generally suffer from high rates of under voting because voters are not familiar with the office or do not know any of the candidates.

2) Non-Partisan/Lack of partisan cues:  If an election on a ballot is non-partisan, that election may experience a higher rate of under voting.  Research shows that voters tend to use a candidate's party affiliation as a 'cue' for whether they should vote one way or another, even if they are unsure who the candidate is.  When this cue is not present for non-partisan elections, more voters are likely to skip the contest altogether, resulting in higher rates of under voting.

3) Uncompetitive election/Only one major party on the ballot:  If an election is not competitive, or only one major party has a candidate on the ballot, and is near assured victory before Election Day, under voting tends to be higher.  The lower the stakes of the election, the higher the under voting tends to be.

A Focus on the Lt. Governor Election

When the vote totals for the 2018 Lt. Governor election are compared to the other 8 statewide constitutional offices an anomaly becomes visible:  Tens of thousands of fewer votes were cast for Lt Governor than any of the other elected offices at the top of the ballot. Table 1 below compares the number of votes cast for Governor in 2018 to the remaining statewide, partisan, constitutional offices.

Table 1: Total 2018 Undervote by Office

| Office | 2018 | Under Vote | Drop Off vs Gov |
|---|---|---|---|
| Governor | 3,939,328 | | |
| Lt. Governor | 3,780,304 | -159,024 | 4.0% |
| Secretary of State | 3,883,594 | -55,734 | 1.4% |
| Attorney General | 3,862,370 | -76,958 | 2.0% |
| Commissioner of Agriculture | 3,843,480 | -95,848 | 2.4% |
| Commissioner of Insurance | 3,861,625 | -77,703 | 2.0% |
| State School Superintendent | 3,862,464 | -76,864 | 2.0% |
| Commissioner of Labor | 3,849,450 | -89,878 | 2.3% |

Based on our understanding of the factors that encourage higher rates of under voting (as outlined in the previous section), the Lt. Governor's election would not seem to contain any of the defining variables we usually see when higher than normal under voting occurs.  The Lt Governor's election, position wise on the ballot, was directly below one of the most competitive and highly publicized elections for Governor in years. The election was partisan, and the election was extremely competitive (much like other statewide offices on the ballot), with the winner receiving just 51.6% of the vote. In short, there is little reason to suspect that under voting should be higher for Lt Governor than any of the other 8 constitutional offices based on its competitiveness, position on the ballot or its partisan classification. Yet, under voting was more than two times higher than under voting for Attorney General, and three times higher than that for Secretary of State.  The question becomes, why?

This anomaly becomes more apparent when examining past elections. Table 2 below compares drop off percentages for each of the state's 8 constitutional offices by election cycle since 2002:

Table 2: % Decrease in votes cast compared to that years gubernatorial contest

| | 2018 | 2014 | 2010 | 2006 | 2002 |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Lt. Governor | 4.0% | 0.8% | 0.3% | 1.2% | 0.9% |
| Secretary of State | 1.4% | 0.9% | 0.9% | 2.8% | 1.0% |
| Attorney General | 2.0% | 1.0% | 0.9% | 2.3% | 2.8% |
| Commissioner of Agriculture | 2.4% | 1.6% | 1.2% | 1.8% | 2.1% |
| Commissioner of Insurance | 2.0% | 1.2% | 1.2% | 2.4% | 2.1% |
| State School Superintendent | 2.0% | 1.0% | 0.9% | 1.1% | 1.2% |
| Commissioner of Labor | 2.3% | 1.7% | 1.6% | 3.1% | 2.8% |

In this context, the historic nature of the undervote becomes clear: Since 2002, the undervote percentage compared to Governor, for all constitutional offices has averaged 1.6%.  The 4% drop-off seen here is more than 3 standard deviations away from that mean, further indicating the drop-off seen here is an extreme outlier. Overall, the 4% drop-off between Lt Governor and Governor is the largest gap seen in a mid-term this century in Georgia.

Finally, a quick comparison to similar Lt Governor elections that took place elsewhere in 2018 highlights the strangeness of the result in GA.  Chart 1 below examines the undervote rate in the 9 states with stand alone elections for Lt. Governor in 2018:

Chart 1: 2018: Undervote rates for Lt Governor elections in states with stand alone elections for Governor
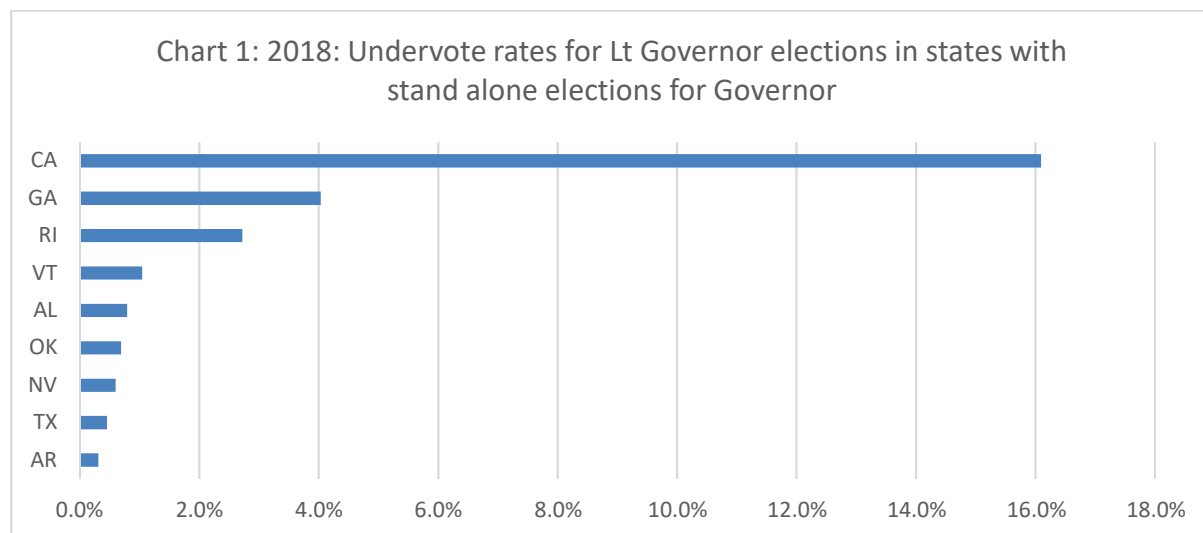

Out of all states, only CA had a higher undervote percentage.  Why?  Because in 2018, due to California's top two primary set up, just two Democratic candidates were on the ballot- there were no Republican candidates or third-party candidates for voters to choose from; again, an ingredient for higher rates of under voting.  Minus California, GA's Lt Governor under vote was the highest among all Lt Governor contests in the country in 2018.

Georgia's 2018 State Representative Elections
Second, an examination of the county and precinct level data from the 2018 election raises additional questions about the reasonableness of the Lt. Governor reported vote tallies. Specifically, if we go even further down the ballot, and examine state representative, otherwise known as 'state house' elections, we see Lt Governor vote totals that are even lower than those for non-competitive state representative elections.

To recap, there were 180 state representative seats up for election in 2018, with as many as 110 of those seats 'uncontested', meaning only 1 major party had a general election candidate on the ballot to choose from.  Not surprisingly, this number of uncontested seats resulted in a smaller number of votes cast for state representative.  In total just 3,470,967 votes were cast for a state representative in Georgia, or 468,351 fewer votes than cast for Governor, an aggregate drop off of almost 12%.  Again, this makes sense based on our knowledge of under voting: uncompetitive or uncontested elections tend to yield smaller vote totals.

With that context present, an analysis of the votes cast across the state's 2,636 precincts show that, inexplicably, more votes were cast for State Representative than Lt Governor in 1,012 precincts, or 38% of all precincts.  Further, in 137 of those 1,012 precincts, the Democratic candidate for State Representative received 100% of the total votes cast for that contest.  Ultimately this raises the question: Why would more voters in a precinct vote in an uncontested or uncompetitive State Representative election than for an election further up the ballot that is contested and competitive?

To further illustrate this point, we compare state representative vote totals to another statewide election with what appear to be normal rates of under voting: Attorney General. In total there were just 410 precincts where there were more votes cast for State Representative than Attorney General. In just two of those precincts did the Democratic candidate for State Representative receive 100% of the votes.  This would line up with our established expectations: if a down ballot election such as state representative, garnered more votes than a statewide election, it would be in precincts with more locally competitive representative elections, and not where candidates are receiving 100% of the vote.

Addressing Voter Choice and Vote Method

We believe that the data presented thus far, combined with the necessary context around what variables accompany higher rates of under voting, shows striking irregularities in the total vote for Lt Governor, that ultimately call into question the accuracy of the vote and the legitimacy of the outcome

With that said, we can't ultimately rule out with 100% certainty that a group of voters decided, intentionally, to not vote for Lt. Governor.   However, what makes this intention even more unlikely is how the under vote for Lt Governor breaks down when comparing vote method.  In this context, vote method refers to how a voter decided to cast their ballot- either through mail in absentee, in person early voting (or 'advance voting') and finally Election Day voting at the polls.  Early voting and Election Day voting are conducted on electronic machines and mail in absentee is voted on paper ballots.

After examining county level results released by the Secretary of State, we found that there were significant differences in the Lt Governor under vote, depending on the method of vote.  For instance, the voting machine election day under vote was approximately 4.5%, while the undervote was as little as 1% among absentee by mail voters, who voted on paper.  This is an additional oddity in the data, especially when, as chart 2 demonstrates below, under vote rates are more consistent across method of voting for other offices such as Secretary of State (SOS) and Attorney General (AG):

Chart 2: Undervote % by Office and Vote Method
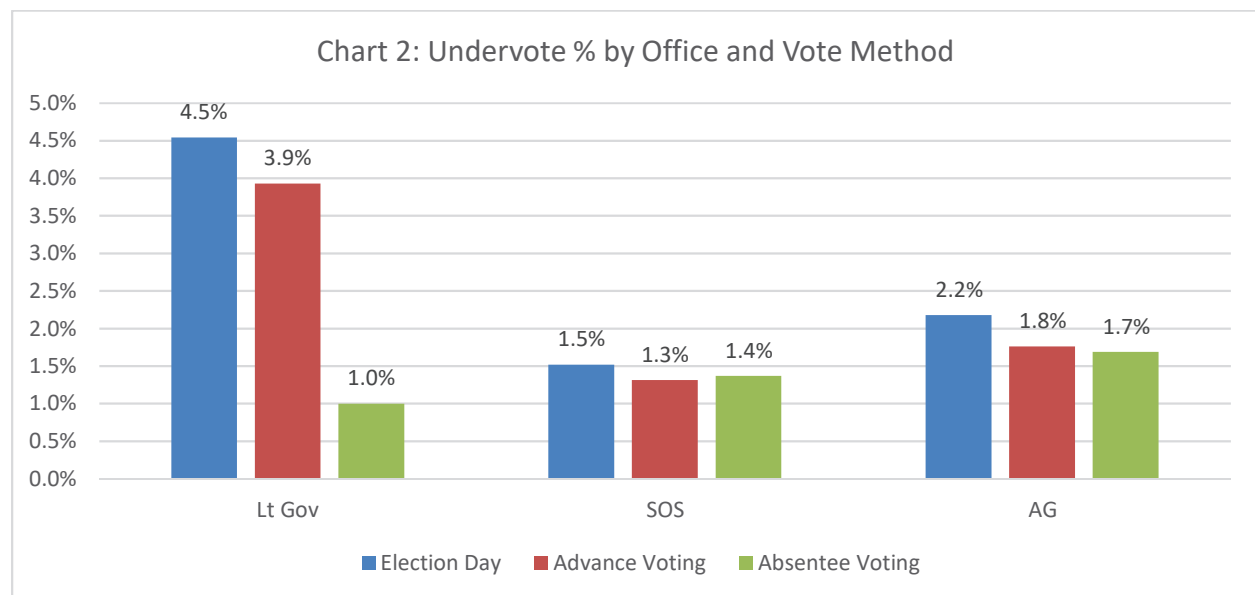

According to data on the GA voter file, absentee voters tended to skew somewhat older, more Democratic (according to our partisanship modeling) and more African American; but it is unlikely that such a modest skew could have accounted for such a large difference in the under vote between absentee and election day voters. Therefore, if voters were deliberately under voting in the Lt Governor election, why would that not be consistent across all vote methods?   Instead, we would speculate that the key difference here is the technology that is being used to administer absentee votes vs in person votes, and not differences in the voters who selected one vote method or the other.

Conclusion

In conclusion, based on our analysis of the publicly available data, it is our opinion that the undervote totals reflected in the Lt Governor's race are extremely suspect and irregular and cast a serious doubt over the accuracy of the final vote count and the certified outcome of the Lt. Governor's contest.
